

CONTACT INFORMATION	L7, 3-5 68131 Mannheim, Germany	☎: +49 (0) 621 181 1802 ✉: andreas.gulyas@gmail.com
RESEARCH INTERESTS	Macroeconomics, Labor Economics, Search Theory, Numerical Methods
POSITIONS	Assistant Professor University of Mannheim, Department of Economics	2017-present
EDUCATION	PhD Economics University of California, Los Angeles	2011-2017
	MSc, Economics (with distinction) Vienna Institute for Advanced Studies	2009-2011
	Bachelor in Statistics University of Vienna	2006-2010
	MA in Economics (with distinction) University of Vienna	2004-2009
	-Exchange Semester at Corvinus University Budapest	2007
WORKING PAPERS	Identifying Labor Market Sorting with Firm Dynamics
WORK IN PROGRESS	Does the Cyclicity of Employment Depend on Trends in the Participation Rate? What do Short-Time Work Schemes Tell us about the Outside Option of Workers?
SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS	Dissertation Year Fellowship, UCLA, 2016 DOC Fellowship of the Austrian Academy of Sciences 2014-2015 (€70,000) Honor pass, Second-Year Field Paper in Macroeconomics, UCLA, 2013 Proctoring Award, UCLA, 2015 ($500) Teaching Assistant Award, UCLA, Winter 2013 ($500) Full Fellowship, University of California, Los Angeles Full Scholarship, Institute for Advanced Studies, Vienna 2009-2011 (€20,000)
INVITED PRESENTATIONS	2017: Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, CEU Budapest, IIES, University of Mannheim, Bank of Italy, Cambridge University, University of Oslo, Macro Workshop NYU Abu Dhabi
PUBLICATIONS	Can price-earnings ratios really forecast stock returns? Evidence from historical U.S. data 1871-2009. Global Journal of Finance and Management 2, 307-320, 2010 (jointly with E. Reschenhofer, M. Cerman, J. Mauerhofer und L. Stefan)

RESEARCH ASSISTANCE	University of California, Los Angeles, Pablo Fajgelbaum	2012-2016
	University of California, Los Angeles, Lee Ohanian	2016
	University of California, Los Angeles, Till von Wachter	2013-2014
	National Bank of Austria, Economic Studies Division	2006-2011

RESEARCH VISITS	Université Catholique de Louvain	Summer 2016
	Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis	Summer 2015
	University of Bonn	Summer 2014

TEACHING EXPERIENCE	Teaching Assistant(TA) for ECON 102	Spring Term 2013
	• Undergraduate course at University of California, Los Angeles
	TA for ECON 164	Winter Term 2013
	• Undergraduate course at University of California, Los Angeles
	TA for ECON 102	Fall Term 2012
	• Undergraduate course at University of California, Los Angeles
	TA for Computational Methods	Winter Term 2011
	• Master Level course at Institute for Advanced Studies, Vienna
	TA for Econometrics I	Spring Term 2011
	• Master level course at Institute for Advanced Studies, Vienna
	TA for Quantitative Methods of Economics	Summer Term 2009
	• Master level course for history graduate students, University of Vienna
	TA for Introduction to Statistics	Winter Term 2008/09
	• Bachelor level course for Statistics, University of Vienna

REFeree EXPERIENCE	Review of Economic Studies, Macroeconomic Dynamics
--------------------	--

COMPUTER SKILLS	R, MatLab, STATA, SPSS, L ^A T _E X
-----------------	---

LANGUAGES	German (native), English (fluent), Hungarian (fluent), French (basics)
-----------	--

REFERENCES	Lee Ohanian Professor of Economics University of California, Los Angeles ohanian@econ.ucla.edu +1 310 825-0979	Pierre-Olivier Weill Professor of Economics University of California, Los Angeles poweill@econ.ucla.edu +1 310 794-6495
	Till von Wachter Associate Professor of Economics University of California, Los Angeles tvwachter@econ.ucla.edu +1 310-825-5665	Pablo Fajgelbaum Assistant Professor of Economics University of California, Los Angeles pfajgelbaum@gmail.com +1 310 794-7241